

Natural Flex Latex

Featuring Talalay latex and an
Organic cotton cover

Latex

The Natural Flex plush latex mattress begins with a tufted, all organic fabric cover that is free of any toxic chemicals which is great for your body as well as your piece of mind.

Inside the mattress is made up of 3" of Talalay natural latex and a supportive base consisting of 744 individually wrapped pocketed coils by Leggett & Platt offering plenty of support per square inch for a great night's sleep and encased in 3" high density foam walls for long-lasting edge support.

All of our beds are made locally in California using American products to maintain the highest quality and longest lasting beds. This in turn allows us to offer a longer, 20 year, non-prorated warranty with confidence.
